Presence of Mind.

"I'm looking for the responsible man of this printshop," snorted a broad-shouldered tramp, edging his way into the managing editor's office. "Show me the high daddy that bumps out the literature for this magazine. Whoop! Give me room! Where's the he pelican that licks the postage stamps for this periodical? Wah-h! I'm a snortin' alligator of the briny deep! Where's the man that chews soap for this job office?"

"I represent those various functions," repeated the managing editor, drawing a sabor out of his ear. "What kind of an advertisement do you want?" and he poured a handful of gunpowder into a hollow tooth and cocked it.

"What do you mean by publishing my name in this yere second-hand almanac? What's your justification for dragging me through this two-sheet poster? Who said I was dead? Who killed me? Who put my name in this prescription label? I'm Jim Currie, of Texas! Hear me? Who's the man that wrote me up as murdered in this dime-museum programme? Give me his spine! Hand me one of his eyes!" and the stranger danced across the local room and back.

"I'm the man," said the managing editor, slipping a repeating rifle out of his sleeve. "I wrote that article," drawing a handful of dynamite out of a pimple on his nose. "If it isn't satisfactory [taking a keg of gunpowder out of his sock] it can be fixed."

"I want an apology or $4 in cash, and I'll get it, if I bust this type-writer!" yelled Mr. Currie. "Gimme justice or $3.50, or I'll bang the side lights out of this bill-board quicker'n a streak o' lightnin' 'll scorch an old maid! I'm the shiverin' walrus of the growing Southwest! Gimme satisfaction or $2.75, or you'll hear this first lesson in easy spellin' whoopin' through space! Wah—h—h!"

"You light down the inside of the building," howled the editor, drawing a fourteen-inch Bowie knife from his knee-joint, "or I'll crawl inside of you!" and he rammed a twelve-pound cartridge into his elbow. "Jump through the roof or I'll bite you in half and throw the rest away!" and he clawed at twelve or fifteen feet of planking and slammed out the side of the building with it.

"Ain't you going—?"
"Don't you get—?"
"See me—!"
"Get—!"
"Wah-h-h-h!"

And the stranger went out and told his abettors that the thing wouldn't work; the Eagle was all out of money, and couldn't put up for a glass of beer, while the managing editor started on an editorial demonstrating the lack of corporate sympathy for pauper criminals. —Brooklyn Eagle.

The Grand Duke's Tallow Candle.

From many amusing anecdotes of the Russian imperial family related in the late Karl Bender's memoirs, is the following highly characteristic story of the eccentric Grand Duke Constantine, Czar Alexander's eldest uncle. While residing at Warsaw, Constantine gave a splendid banquet to a number of the great Polish nobles, to each of whom, at the conclusion of the feast, an ordinary tallow candle was served on a plate by the attendant lacqueys. As soon as all his guests were supplied with these peculiarly unappetizing objects, the Grand Duke, who had given orders that an imitation candle, admirably executed in marchpane, should be placed upon his plate, rose from his seat and exclaimed:

"Gentlemen, let us eat, to the honor of Russia, the favorite national comestible of my country. Look at me. This is the way to do it."

So saying, he threw back his head, opened his mouth wide, and inserted therein two inches or so of the dainty in question. As he closed his teeth, however, the expression of his countenance suffered an extraordinary exchange. One of the noblemen, sitting in his immediate vicinity, had contrived to substitute his own genuine tallow candle for the marchpane imitation set before the Grand Duke, who, not choosing to betray himself to his guests, found himself condemned to chew at least one copious mouthful of good Russian tallow as an example to all the victims of his detestable jest, none of whom dared to abstain doing as the terrible Constantine did. It is needless to say that the dexterous appropriator of the marchpane candle, while devouring that toothsome article with a joyful heart, baffled suspicion by the most hideous visual contortions expressive of loathing and nausea.

"You seem sad and dejected to-night, Claude, dear." "Yes, darling; men of my emotional nature are easily affected either by the smiles or frowns of fortune." His washerwoman had discharged him.

Do not let prejudice stand in the way of relief if you suffer from any lingering disease, Burdock Blood Bitters cure others, why should it not benefit you? It is a specific for all forms of Blood, Liver, and Kidney Complaints, Nervous Headaches, General Debility, Scrofula and all diseases of the Secretory system. Trial Bottles 10 cents. 12

A BLUFF GAME.

Turning the Cheek of a Life-Insurance Agent.

[From the Chicago Inter Ocean.]

He was an old man, and said he'd seen better times. I hoped he had, but, as I was unusually busy and didn't want any life insurance, if he would excuse me—

"Oh, yes," said he; "all right, young man, I'll drop in again."

The next day he did "drop in," and, sitting down on my desk, began: "Nothing in this world, my young friend, will pay so big a per cent. on the little money invested as a policy in the Mutual Benefit Association, the most, and, in fact, the only, solid company on earth; capital over $7,000,000, and so prompt—why, I insured a man last week for $10,000, and the same day he was run over by a street-car, so, when I sent in the policy and premium, I just said, by way of a P. S., 'Run over by a hoss-car not an hour after insured; send on check, as he can't live; both legs cut off.' The very next day I got a check for $10,560. Dividend, my friend, was more than the premium, and don't you call this prompt? That man's widow got this check before he had been dead fifteen minutes."

"But," said I, "I have no wife and don't want any life insurance, I tell you."

"The investment, my young friend—the investment. Look at the dividend. This man got $560 in one hour, you might say; and then you will have a wife some day. Now, you do want a policy in this company. I know you do. I'm an old man; have had large and varied experience, and I know you are just aching for one of these policies, only you are so extremely modest. Now, I'll just make out your application; it only costs you—let me see. How old are you?"

"Twenty-six, but—"

"Twenty-six—hum. Father living?"

"No."

"How old was he when he died?"

"Twenty-seven years old."

"Twenty-seven, hey? What did he die of? Accident, I presume."

"No, sir; consumption."

"Consumption? You don't look consumptive."

"But I am consumptive, and—"

"Mother's living, I doubt not?"

"No sir; she died at 28."

"What was the cause of her death?"

"Insanity, sir; hereditary insanity; family's full of it. All my brothers, thirteen of us in all, sir, died between 24 and 28 of the same disease. Dangerous, too, some of them; my oldest brother was taken about this time one day, and he killed his partner, bookkeeper, three clerks and fourteen customers before they could secure him, and—"

"You don't tell me. This is wonderful. You look like a strong, healthy man, likely to live fifty years. Was you ever sick?"

"Oh, yes; I've had inflammatory rheumatism, pneumonia, dysentery, small-pox, mumps, liver complaint, fits, corns and—"

"Good heavens! And you want me to insure your life. Well, my company is a good company, willing to take an ordinary business risk, but I must say I never knew them to insure a corpse. I'd like to accommodate you, young man; you seem anxious about it, and I feel interested in your family, but our surgeon wouldn't pass such an application. Good-day."

Hats, Caps, etc., all sorts of Furnishing Goods can be found at this establishment. Cheap for Cash is my motto and I don't calculate to let any one in Victoria sell the same kind of goods for less money than I do at the Factory Store, S. H. Glover, proprietor, Agent for Scotland Woolen Mills, corner Johnson and Government streets, Victoria, B.C. *

It is a great and often fatal mistake to take repeated drastic purgatives for constipation of the bowels, they induce piles and cause debility of the bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters is a safe and perfect regulator of the bowels, arousing the torpid Liver and all the secretions to a healthy action, acting on the Kidneys, and renovating and toning the system in the most perfect manner. 7

For all purposes of a family medicine, Hagyard's Yellow Oil is at the head of the list. It is used with unprecedented success, both internally and externally. It cures sore throat, burns, scalds, frost bites; relieves, and often cures asthma. 10

Yellow Oil is par excellence the remedy for Pain, Lameness, Rheumatism, Croup, Deafness, Burns, Frost Bites, Stiff joints, and all flesh wounds. Any medicine dealer can furnish it. 8

If you suffer from any chronic disease arising from impure blood, Sluggish Liver, disordered Kidneys or inactivity of the bowels; if your nervous system is debiiltated from whatever cause arising, do not despair, but procure a trial bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters; it will only cost 10 cents, Large Bottles $1.00. For sale by all medicine dealers. 9

All sensible people, suffering with rheumatism, use Pfunder's Oregon Blood Purifier. *

ASSASSINATION INDIGNATION MEETING IN NEW YORK.

On the night of May 12th there was held in New York city a crowded meeting of those desirous of participating in an expression of the sentiments of Irish-Americans concerning the Dublin assassinations. Anticipating trouble from the O'Donovan Rossa faction, one hundred policemen were distributed throughout the hall and Land Leaguers placed so that they could assist the officers. Rossa sat in the centre of the hall, with several policemen near him. Mrs. PARNELL appeared on the platform, and received an ovation. The mayor presided, and in the long list of Vice-Presidents were the names of prominent Land Leaguers, politicians, members of the judiciary, and leading Irish Americans. During the Mayor's opening address, in which he said they had assembled to express public abhorrence of the crime and condemn the men who conceived it, a voice cried:—"Three cheers for their killing." Resolutions were presented declaring that the assassinations of the Chief Secretary and Under-Secretary for Ireland were crimes calling for the strongest condemnation of all friends of Ireland, and that the Land League of New York united with the people of Ireland in indignant repudiation of any complicity in so black a deed, and proclaim the conviction that such outrages tend to injure the projects of the Irish Land League, retard the adoption of necessary amendments to the Land Act, and damage the cause of Irish nationality. The abandonment of the government's conciliatory policy was also condemned. RICHARD O'GORMAN spoke and was frequently interrupted by cries of "Three cheers for assassins," "Dynamite," etc. O'GORMAN repudiates the idea that deadly weapons were wielded by Irish hands. "Ireland," he said, "could not meet England in conflict and the way to success was through Parnell and his associates. America does not want war with England, though the American people know that justice has not been done Ireland, and they want the Irish to succeed." Major HORGAN arose from the audience saying he was surprised no one seconded the resolutions. He would do so, first offering amendments. The Mayor tried to stop him, and invited him to the platform, on ascending which he was cheered by the Rossa faction, who mistook him for one of their number. When he got on the platform the Mayor introduced Dr. Wallace and confusion ensued, the disturbing faction calling for Horgan. Dr. Wallace succeeded in obtaining a hearing, and said it was their duty to stand by Parnell and his associates, and strengthen the fight, which was only beginning. JAMES REDPATH said he was an American, and the man who denounced the Russian Nihilist was not an American. He cried, "God bless dynamite in Russia." In Ireland, however, assassinations were a fatal blow to liberty. He denounced GLADSTONE, FORSTER, and BURKE, and said GLADSTONE was a fifth-rate man, not to be compared to BLAINE, CONKLING, or even JOHN KELLY. Whenever the speaker spoke of force toward England the Rossa faction shouted incendiary threats. MRS. PARNELL said she didn't mind assassination, provided she was assassinated, and it helped Ireland. She knew that her son was under the impression that he would be murdered, and for that reason did not leave Paris the day he thought he would. If there was a plot to assassinate him, she did not suppose Irishmen would do it. The landlords were responsible for the late crimes. HORGAN, amid cries of "Shut up," "Bounce him," and "Go on," proceeded to read his resolutions. HORGAN turned and addressed several strong remarks to those on the platform, and a tumult which threatened to be serious ensued. Quiet, however, was restored and he read the amendment. It set forth that it would be more becoming to express sympathy with Gladstone's murdered victims of evictions than to pander to the wishes of the Lord Norths of to-day. It created a commotion. Dr. Wallace indignantly denied that the Land League pandered to any such tastes. Yells and cries from every part of the hall followed. The committee accepted the amendment, and it with the original resolutions were adopted. The meeting adjourned with such cries as "Dublin cut Cavendish and will cut Forster."

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL'S "POST"-PRANDIAL PHILOSOPHY.

This journal has exposed too many of the Attorney General's tricks—political as well as personal—to be much of a favorite with him, and we accept his abuse and slander as a matter of course. But we are at a loss to conceive what possible offence the young men of the Post have given Mr. Walkem and his organ to call forth the stream of mud which has flowed from the government sewer for a week past. To judge from the tone of the articles to which we refer the organ and Mr. Walkem imagine that they possess an inherent claim upon the newspaper field of Victoria, and that, in their opinion, no person has a right to enter that field under a penalty of being subject to misrepresentation and libel. It is questionable whether either of the worthies will help their cause by their display of malevolence and spite. Indeed, it is currently reported that the Standard is already feeling the "press" of the new concern, and that its previously attenuated list of subscribers has shrunk to very insignificant proportions. If this report be correct, the cause of the attack on the Post is no longer doubtful. Politically, Mr. Walkem sees that power is slipping from his hands. He knows, too, that the only hold he has on the organ are the government "ads." Should he withdraw them the organ would cease to support him at once; not that he would be much the loser, but the man is so extremely vain that he will have a trumpeter no matter at what cost. Artemus Ward offered to send all his relations to the war; and the Attorney General is prepared to expend every dollar in the treasury to purchase praise even from so degraded a source as the Standard. It is a case of "like master like man"—arcades ambo! Put both in a bag and give them a shake and you could hardly tell "'tother from which." The "early training" of the attorney general may have been excellent; but if he is to be judged by his "later career" in this province the public will be inclined to think that he has sadly "fallen from grace." His article in yesterday's organ supplies the best possible index to the moral status of the man. Had he inscribed upon a sign the habits which are said to be peculiar to him, and hung the board across his beaming countenance, he could not have more thoroughly exposed his own malignant nature than he has done in that article. In wine is truth. Truth, which is supposed to be in a well, comes to the surface when the attorney general indulges in "post"-prandial philosophy and sends it to the Standard to be printed. The public will think that he might be engaged in more dignified employment than in writing malignant "leading" articles for a paid supporter; that the time which he consumes in plastering the Post with James Bay mud might be more profitably devoted to preparing a hand-book of the country and sending it abroad to induce immigration, or in laying out his work for the next assizes in place of hiring assistance at the eleventh hour. But, pshaw! as well expect to gather grapes from thorns as to look for any good to flow from a source so turgid as that of the attorney general.

Municipal Police Court.

(Before Hon. A. E. Pemberton.)

MONDAY, May 29.

SANITARY.

L. Lowenberg was charged with neglecting a sanitary matter in connection with the property of Archbishop Seghers on Fort street.

The defendant stated that he had performed part of the work considered necessary; but he did not think he could be obliged to put in earth closets. He would make this a test case and carry it to a higher court.

His Honor remarked that Mr. Lowenberg's objections should be forwarded to the proper quarter, as he could only administer the law as he found it.

Mr. Lowenberg would ask the magistrate to adjourn the case for a week in order to consult a lawyer on the matter.

Adjourned for a week accordingly.

ASSAULTS.

Edward Shelly was charged with assaulting Sing He on Government street on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Weston appeared for the defence and Mr. E. C. Baker, with whom the plaintiff is living, watched the case on his behalf.

Plaintiff on being sworn stated that the defendant met him near the postoffice and struck him on the face; defendant then threw him down and struck him again; a Chinaman who was with him blew a whistle and a policeman came and took prisoner in charge; witness held prisoner till the officer came.

A Chinaman who was with plaintiff corroborated the above evidence.

Officer Hough deposed to finding the prisoner holding the plaintiff down on the sidewalk and striking him with his fist; the prisoner was under the influence of liquor.

Mr. E. C. Baker stated that the plaintiff had lived with him for two years and was a peaceable man.

Mr. Weston remarked that the prisoner was a seaman on board the Hassler and was much intoxicated at the time; besides the defendant came in collision with him and struck first.

His Honor was not sure but that he would have to send the case to a higher court for trial. It might be dealt with summarily, however, should such a course be considered advisable.

Supt. O'Connor remarked that the assault was an aggravated one and committed on the Sunday afternoon. In the interests of the public he would thank the magistrate to send the case for trial.

It was finally decided that the matter should be dealt with summarily.

Prisoner was sentenced to pay a fine of $50, to be levied by distress, or three months' imprisonment with hard labor.

Billy a Nittinat Indian was charged with assaulting a Chinaman named Mere Sing on Beacon Hill on Sunday last.

Prisoner stated that he asked plaintiff if he had seen his (prisoner's) sister, when plaintiff called him names and struck him first.

This statement was denied by the plaintiff.

Defendant was sentenced to pay a fine of $20 or in default two months' imprisonment with hard labor.

The fine was paid and prisoner discharged.

A small batch of Indian

DRUNK AND DISORDERLIES

were disposed of in the usual manner and the fines paid.

FROM YALE.—The Western Slope arrived last night at 12 o'clock from Yale, which place she left at 9:30 a.m. and was detained an hour at Hope. The river is rising very fast and a great deal of drift is running. Steamer Cassiar is gradually getting out of sight as the water rises.

GOODALL'S BLANC MANGE POWDER.—For sale at FELL & Co.'s, Fort St. *

What Some People Say.

That the new postal law which frees journals from postage applies only to newspapers.

That the Standard, therefore, cannot avail itself of the privilege.

That Capt. Lawrence and Mrs. Lawrence, of Metchosin, will leave shortly for Jamaica, where the Captain has an estate, upon which it is their intention to reside.

That the date of the elections is drawing very near.

That Councillor Boyd will stand for the Commons in the city.

That a party has been fitted out at San Francisco to search for the wreck of the steamship Brother Jonathan, lost on St. George's reef, in 1866, with a large number of Oregon and Victoria passengers.

That the most encouraging intelligence is coming in from all the districts of the formation of committees for the support of candidates in opposition to the government.

That the provincial secretary is casting about for a place to rest the sole of his political foot.

That Victoria district does not offer him sufficient inducements.

That when Queen Victoria entered London as a bride she wore a white bonnet, which conformed with the Parisian style of the day. To every new daughter-in-law she has presented a fac-simile of this white bonnet, and the piece of headgear has been worn by every one of them upon their entrance into the metropolis.

That cuffs are small.

That small mantles prevail.

That shot silks are stylish.

That ruches rival plaitings.

That terra-cotta stockings are new.

That Spanish lace continues popular.

That panier polonaises are popular.

That brocades are fast disappearing.

That Watteau overdresses are revived.

That jet remains in favor with Worth.

That new hats are laden with feathers.

That Gainsborough hats are out of favor.

That Sicilienne is used for elegant costumes.

That apron overskirts are always in vogue.

That Redingotes are new for summer dresses.

That white barege is used for evening dresses.

That the steamer Grappler is due from the north with news of the salmon run.

That the Muldoon Picnic Party will only appear four evenings. Seats may be secured at T. N. Hibben & Co.'s.

That Mr. Sluggett, sen., will be a candidate for the Commons in Vancouver district.

That Mr. Walkem's friends say he has corraled the judgeship.

Real Estate Notes.

Mr. J. C. McLagan, as agent for the owner, has sold to Mr. Geo. Anderson, of Messrs. Perry, Reynolds & Anderson, the following lots in the town site of Port Moody, in the sub-division of lot 26, viz.: In block 29, lots 1 to 6 inclusive and 31 to 36 inclusive; in block 20, from 2 to 12 inclusive and from 25 to 30 inclusive; in block 31, 2 to 19 inclusive and from 25 to 30 inclusive; in block 38, 7 to 12 inclusive—56 lots in all, at an average of $200 each.

J. B. McArthur, Esq., barrister, bought from the same gentleman 12 lots in blocks 29 to 31 at same price as above.

Mr. Geo. Anderson has resold to Mr. Davies 3 lots in Port Moody for $800.

To John Macara 4 lots, for $900.

To John McKinnon, 1 lot at $250.

To Thomas Watson, 2 lots for $600.

To Alfred Marshall, 2 lots for $500.

To Peter Dixon, 2 lots for $400.

Innes, Graveley & Davis sold, in Port Moody, B. C., lots 25 and 30, block 31, Sixth Avenue, to W. Gifford, for $250 each.—Winnipeg Free Pre s.

Weekly Colonist.

The Weekly Colonist, the largest, best and most widely-circulated newspaper in the province, will be issued this morning. It will be found full of valuable information and may be had at the bookstores and the publication office.

MR. SLUGGET OF NORTH SAANICH

will be a candidate to represent the electors of Vancouver District in the House of Commons at the approaching election.

WHAT DID HE WANT.—A family living in the upper part of Chatham street was disturbed about 2 o'clock yesterday morning by a movement outside the house; the paternal head giving it as his opinion that it was a quadruped while his "better half" maintained that it was a biped and that he was up to no good. Finally the man went out to investigate it and sure enough the lady was in the right, as an individual was observed under the verandah who reported himself as having met with an accident and wanted admission. As the party in question seemed well able to travel he got peremptory instruction to go elsewhere, which he did in "double quick." Prowlers in the suburbs would do well to refrain from disturbing families in this way or Judge Pemberton will make a severe example of some of them one of these days.

THE OLD CEMETERY.—In spite of the pledge of the government no steps have yet been taken to improve the old cemetery. The tangled grass still conceals the graves, the walks are overgrown and all but obliterated, and the headstones and railings lean in every conceivable position or lie flat on the ground. The weather is propitious and the government should hasten to redeem its promise.

THE Hatton Garden Post-Office robbery has had a counterpart in Paris. A strong safe in the central office was broken open and a hundred and eighty out of two hundred and thirty registered letters were stolen, the total loss being about two hundred thousand dollars. In this case the robbery was committed at night, and seems to throw some discredit on the sentinels who were on guard.

METHODIST SOCIAL.—The last social of the season will be held this evening in the lecture room of the Methodist Church, Pandora street, commencing at 8 o'clock. An excellent and intertaining programme has been provided. Admission twenty-five cents. *

THE Kennedy Comedy Co. to-day proceed to New Westminster, Yale and Burrard Inlet to delight the residents of those pleasant places with their chaste performances. They will meet with deserved success.

FOR NEW WESTMINSTER. — The Princess Louise will leave for the river this evening with a full freight.

THE licensing court for the city will sit on the 15th inst.

Marine.

Barque Mary Winckleman, bound for Cowichan for railway ties, arrived on Sunday.

Australian barque Excelsior, Captain Hatton, arrived in Rayal roads yesterday, 64 days from Melbourne. Passed Honolulu 14 days ago and therefore made a quick run from there to this part. She goes to Hastings to load for Australia.

H. B. Co.'s steamer Otter will go north on Monday next, carrying freight and passengers.

The barque George, Capt. Grant, will leave to-day or to-morrow for Moodyville to load lumber for Chili.

Mail steamship G. W. Elder will sail from Esquimalt for San Francisco at 12, noon, today.

Mail steamship Dakota will sail from San Francisco for Victoria at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

It is said the fine new iron steamship Oregon, now running to Portland, will soon be transferred to this route.

Naval.

In consequence of the delay in the departure of the Swiftsure from England, that vessel will not reach the Pacific station till late in the year and Admiral Lyons will not visit this part of the station until next Spring. Captain Markham, late of the Triumph, who is now in England, is to have the command of the new Arctic expedition which is fitting out for the relief of the Leigh Smith expedition, absent since 1880. The steel corvette Comus, Capt. East, is hourly expected from the China station. Capt. East will be the senior naval officer on the northern division for some time to come. The Comus will probably be the vessel which will be placed at the disposal of the governor-general upon his arrival at San Francisco. H. M. S. Kingfisher was to leave Valparaiso about the middle of April for Esquimalt calling at the coast ports on her way. Paymaster Simmonds, Fleet Surgeon Cruice, of the Triumph; Staff Surgeon Parr of the Thetis; Lieut. Thorold, and Staff Surgeon Inman of the Gannet, have all been invalided to England.

"Birds of a Feather."

It is currently reported that the local premier is carrying on a correspondence with Mr. Mowat, leader of the Ontario grits. The local magnate is apparently getting ready to swop horses should there be a change of government at Ottawa. It is said that Mr. Mowat endorses Mr. Walkem's position in the contest with the Supreme Court, and calls upon him to join him in a crusade against the Dominion government and the judiciary generally. It is a singular coincidence that, simultaneously with Mr. Walkem's falling into Mr. Mowat's arms, Mr. DeCosmos voted with the grits at Ottawa. "Straws show which way the wind blows."

BOAT RACE.—A deposit of $50 was made last night for a sculling match in equal boats between W. Paine and J. Seeley over a course from James Bay round Deadman Island and back, to take place on Saturday, the 24th June, between the hours of 6:30 and 7:30 p.m., for the sum of $300, Mr. McNille being stakeholder.

CONFIRMATION.—The rite of confirmation was conferred upon a number of young ladies and gentlemen at Christ Church Cathedral on Sunday by the Lord Bishop of Columbia.

THE Woodside arrived yesterday afternoon with a small boom of new piles from Sooke for repairing Dickson, Campbell's wharf.

SOCIAL.—The last of these agreeable entertainments in the Methodist Church for the season will be held this evening.

GOODALL'S CUSTARD POWDER.—For sale at FELL & Co.'s, Fort street. *

Verbosity.

Young newspaper reporters and writers usually have a good deal of "overflow"—some so much to fill up space. They make a paragraph out of a squib, and a page out of an item. The New Haven "Register" thus caricatures one green hand.

Young Fitznoodle has just entered journalistic life, and is going to "cut a swath." He believes in putting in a good deal of "color" in his items, and prides himself on his work. He sharpened a couple of pencils at both ends, this morning, and began:

"We regret to inform our readers that the estimable Miss Jones, of Jonesboro, daughter of Congressman Jones, and grand daughter of the well-known founder of the village of Jonesboro, has met with a fearful accident.

"As she was driving along the boulevard at the speed of the wind, the horse, a half-brother of Maud S., and full sister of St. Julien, became suddenly startled by the uprising of a covey of partridges, which are unusually numerous in that section this season, and promise a great deal of fun for the sportsman when the law is off—and as they circled, the frightened steed tore down the avenue like mad, until stopped by the gallant hand of Officer 73, of the Ninth Ward.

"Her injuries were a contusion of the ankle, which did not amount to a fracture; and the unfortunate girl was carried home to her grief-stricken parents and sympathizing friends."

The city editor, at this point, was anxious for copy, and glancing it over rapidly, crumpled it in his hand, remarking, "Fitzy, you have piled up the words haven't you. You've given all your fancy painted. Good boy! But remember this department is the domain of fact." He then scribbled:

"The daughter of Congressman Jones was run away with by a spirited horse, on the avenue, yesterday afternoon. Injuries nominal."

Handling Horses.

Men differ greatly in the amount of work they can get out of a team of horses; the animals know this as well as the drivers. Some will fret and sweat a team when only drawing an empty wagon, while others will drive the same horses before a heavy load and not wet a hair. This difference is more easily seen than described. Kindness in manner and in tone of voice go a great way towards making the load draw easily. The owners' handling of the reins is frequently far different from that of the hired. We have seen teams kept poor in flesh by an almost incessant worry from an ill-fitting harness and inhuman jerking upon the bits, or a frequent and injudicious use of the whip. Boys are not exempt from these strictures. Many teams have had their usefulness impaired by a disregard of the feelings of the horses. It is not the well-fed horse only that does the most work and keeps in the best condition; he must also have a kind master, and be treated with a just regard for equine sensibility.—Agriculturalist.

Agricultural Notes.

Agriculture is taught in 27,000 of the 34,000 schools of France, which have gardens attached in which practical instruction is given.

Nearly all of the agricultural work in Prussia is done by women, and the custom is now as it has always been the men are considered far too brave and strong to engage in anything less important than war.

Florida, which has become noted for its oranges, is now giving attention to the production of cocoanuts. Many plantations are now stocked, some of them containing not less than 10,000. With its variety of products and its immense mineral wealth, a future of unbounded prosperity seems to wait upon the South.

The German empire has still about 34,000,000 acres of forest, valued at $400,000,000. A judicious system of timber protection is followed by the Government, which appropriates $500,00 annually for planting new forests. Austria-Hungary has 43,000,000 acres of timber, and the government of that country also looks carefully to the preservaton of this part of its resources.

Those who keep one or more cows, whether they are on a farm or merely on a small country place, will find it far more profitable to give the surplus milk to the fowls and chicks than to give it to the pigs, as is generally done, for poultry meat (as well as eggs is more valuable than pork. In no way can the same amount be found from the sour and skim milk. The poultry are very fond of it indeed, and it is not at all injurious, though some unjustly claim that it produces diarrhœa, and prevents, in a marked degree, many of the ailments and disorders to which poultry are subject, under certain favorable circumstances and conditions.

There is no wisdom in working a thirty-acre field year after year to get five bushels of wheat or ten of corn to the acre, when, with the same expense for fertilizers, you could raise fifteen bushels of wheat or thirty of corn to the acre.

In Germany between 100 and 200 chemists and physiologists are employed in not far from 90 experimental stations and other institutions in studying the perplexing problems of farm science. In every European country, excepting Turkey and Portugal, this work is said to be going on.

Superphospate of lime may be safely used in the hill or the drill, and whether it should be used in this way or be spread broadcast depends upon the quantity to be used. If used for corn, one ounce or a tablespoonful to a hill would amount to 300 pounds per acre; but if 1,000 pounds per acre should be used it would be better to use it half in the hill and half sowed over the surface after planting.

Fine barnyard manure is the best top-dressing for a meadow. If that cannot be procured, 250 pounds per acre mixed fertilizer, consisting of 50 pounds muriate of potash, 100 pounds superphosphate of lime, 50 pounds guano, and 50 pounds plaster would be useful. If these are not within reach, 100 pounds of plaster, 200 pounds of salt, and 10 bushels of wood ashes per acre may be used. To refresh poor spots harrow them, and put in some fresh seed before the manure is put on.

Ground raw limestone as a fertilizer is a gross humbug. It is not a fertilizer any more than common sand is. It is insoluble carbonate of lime, and is the most abundant constituent of soils next to silica and aluminia. It contains 45 per cent. of carbonic acid, not carbon, and this carbonic acid can only be separated from it by long-continued heat, as when limestone is burned into lime in a kiln. If the carbonic acid could easily be separated from it, it would be useless, because the rainwater and the soil and the air contain more than plants can possibly use of it. The statement that air-slacked lime has taken back carbonic acid from the air is false; farmers slack the lime to reduce it to powder, that is all.

The best crops for use to be ploughed under for manure are those which produce the richest fertilizing material. Clover is considered the best of these crops, but as a heavy crop of clover can only be grown upon good soil, this plant cannot be used as a means of restoring a poor soil, and only for preserving a good soil in its good soil in its good condition. A naturally good soil in good condition can easily be kept improving in fertility by ploughing in the aftermath of the clover, after a good dressing of plaster has been given in the spring, either for wheat or for corn, but it would be advisable in case where manure cannot easily be drawn to the fields to put on a liberal dressing of superphosphate of lime with the grain crop.

Leon Peltzor's Confession.

Leon Peltzor, alias Henry Vaughan, who has for some weeks been in custody at Brussels on suspicion of being the chief actor in the mysterious murder of M. Bernays, has at length, says the London Telegraph, made full confession of his crime. Bernays, it will be remembered, having left his home at Antwerp one morning for Brussels on business, vanished inexplicably from human ken until, nearly a fortnight later, his corpse was discovered in an uninhabited house, situate in a quiet street of the Belgian capital, reclining in an armchair behind a table covered with maps and prospectuses. Peltzer states that, having shot M. Bernays dead, he fled from Brussels to Antwerp, where he broke into his victim's house by night, stole all the valuables he could lay hands on and restored the legal documents which Bernays had brought with him on his death journey to their place in the deceased's desk. He also purloined a suit of the murdered lawyer's clothes, which—having ascertained by telegraph from his brother and accomplice that the murder had not been discovered—he conveyed to Brussels. There he re-entered the house in which the corpse was lying, and proceeded to substitute the stolen garments for the bloodshed raiment worn by Bernays at the time of his assassination. In order to do this, the body having stiffened during the interim, Peltzer "found himself compelled" to break both its arms. Having thus effected a change of clothing he finally adjusted the corpse in the position it occupied when the Brussels police discovered it, and quitted the house, leaving the gas burning in the chamber of death. By this ghastly confession the "Bernays Mystery," which at one time threatened to baffle solution, has been finally cleared up.

"SWEET Curing Seeds" was the translation of the name given to Ayer's Pills by a high mandarin of China, in his letter of acknowledgement of thanks to Dr. Ayer for having introduced them into the Celestial Empire—a very appropriate name! They are sweet, they cure, and are, therefore, the most profitable "seeds" a sick man can invest in. 270

No remedy has been found for Fever and Ague which proves so uniformly successful as Ayer's Ague Cure. 220

A Kentuckian who refused to stop loud profanity on the platform of a railroad car in Lexington was arrested, locked up, and subjected to a fine and costs amounting to $30.40. There is hope for Kentucky after all.

A correspondent of the New York Evangelist discovers that "in a quiet manner, after the manner of the ocean, the tide of feeling in the Presbyterian Church in favor of a liturgy is steadily rising. It is of little use trying to push it back. The Atlantic ocean is always too much for Mrs. Partington.

The other day, at Washington when dinner hour was near at hand, and no end was visible of the dull oratory of his fellowstatesman, the acting Vice-President became very uneasy. He fidgeted about in his chair as if seated on nettles, and endeavored by expressive looks to induce some one to move an adjournment. These tactics proving of no avail, and seeing a certain Senator rise to begin a speech that was certain to be two hours long and exceptionally dull, he grasped opportunity by the forelock, and exclaimed: "There being no further business before the senate, a motion to adjourn is in order: the Senator from — has the floor, and moves to adjourn. All those in favor of that motion will say 'Aye;' those opposed will say 'No.' The Ayes have it, and the Senate stands adjourned;" and before the would-be orator could recover from his bewilderment, the portly Senator from Illinois was half-way to the cloak-room.

A Foolhardy Gymnast Moots with a Terrible Fate.

The New York Sun says: "On Monday last Prof. J. J. Dare was advertised to give an exhibition upon the tight rope at Flushing L. I., during which he was to walk backward and forward blindfolded, tied from head to foot in a sack and with his feet in a cheese box. At 2 o'clock a large crowd had assembled, a long wire rope was extended across Bridge street from the Time's office to Browne's feed store, opposite, and fastened around under the eaves of the building. A lever which tightened the rope was held in place by being caught under the edge of the roof. After going through the simple portion of the exhibition a handkerchief was tied around his head and he proceeded to walk across blindfolded. At this point the stick slipped, the rope slackened suddenly and he fell astride it. He rebounded and fell to the macadamized road, striking upon his head and left shoulder, and fracturing his skull. He was carried into Shaw's restaurant close by, where he raised his head twice or thrice, ejaculated "Oh, my God!" and expired. The real name of the deceased was James Seamon. He was about 5 feet 6 inches high, spare but athletic, with dark eyes and moustache. He was 28 years of age, and had been engaged as a professional gymnast for about 12 years. He fell three months ago in Hollister, Cal., and was so badly hurt that he lay unconscious for ten days.

(Per steamer Geo. E. Starr.)

A visitor to the Rev. S. F. Green, the "martyr ritualist" of England, says that time hangs heavy on the prisoner's hands. Upon his application for something wherein to pass his time, he was graciously allowed to house all the coal that comes to the gaol, that is, to carry it from the carts to the bins.

A curious fate has been that of the magnificent Star of the Garter, which Sir Richard Wallace represented to Lord Beaconsfield when Queen Victoria conferred the Order of the Garter upon him, a few years before his death. It was understood at the time that the star should become an heirloom, but owing to an omission in Lord Beaconsfield's will this was not allowed, and the star was accordingly sold by the executors to a well known diamond firm in London. The firm has retained the star for many months in the hope of selling it, but have failed thus far to find a customer. Hence they have decided to take out all the diamonds—there are 390 of them—and remount them into single stone and gem rings of different sizes.

Two Sides of a Disposition.

"Mister," began a small boy, as he entered a Woodward avenue grocery yesterday, "ma bought some mackerel here last night."

"Yes."

"No, I didn't! I haven't had a quarter with a hole in it for a month!"

"But ma says you gave her a—"

"Don't believe it—don't believe it! I remember, now; I gave her a half dollar, a quarter and a nickle."

"Ma says you gave her a gold piece for a penny, and here it is."

"Oh dear me! but so I did—so I did! I remember now that I gave her a dollar bill and a lot of small change. Bub, what's your name, and do you think you can eat three sticks of lemon candy? Ah! it does me good to find honesty and reward it."—Detroit Free Press.

Rules for Farmers.

1. Do not over-crop yourself, or in other words, do not undertake more than you can accomplish with ease.

2. Have a regular system in all you do, and do everything with a clear understanding as to result and effect.

3. Keep your lands well up to a good standard by a proper fertilizing and judicious rotation of profitable crops.

4. Keep none but good stock, and see to it that said stock is kept in good condition.

5. Take good farm papers, together with a few standard farm books written by practical men, who deal only in facts.—Southern World.

"And I was going over to see you about your boy," was the rejoinder. "He chalked my woodshed all over with a picture of my wife driving me out of the back door with a kettle of water in one hand and a broom in the other." "Is that so? Then I go in for civil service reform within our own families." The boys never knew what they were "licked" for that night.

We are believers in the "go as you please" rule in business, and consider that every store-keeper has a right to judge for himself what his hours of business shall be, and in this belief we kept our store open on Saturday afternoons and evenings. Recently, however, we, in conjunction with the leading dry goods stores in the city, signed a notice that our stores would be closed on Saturday evenings at 6 o'clock. Having kept this agreement, while others who entered into it failed to do so, we now give notice that in future we SIGN NO MORE AGREEMENTS of the kind; but purpose to do business when it suits our own and our customers' convenience.

SKILL, TASTE AND JUDGMENT HAVING BEEN EXERCISED IN THE SELECTION OF OUR STOCK, AND EVERYTHING BEING ENTIRELY NEW AND FRESH, OF FINE QUALITIES AND BEST MAKES, WE ARE SATISFIED THAT OUR CUSTOMERS WILL AGREE IN THEIR VERDICT THAT THERE HAS NEVER BEEN SHOWN IN THIS CITY SO ELEGANT AN ASSORTMENT OF GOODS THAT SO THOROUGHLY MEETS THE WANTS OF THE PROVINCE.

AS IN THE PAST, WE INTEND ADHERING STRICTLY TO THE PRINCIPLE IN THE MATTER OF PROFITS THAT "THE NIMBLE SIXPENCE IS BETTER THAN THE SLOW SHILLING," QUICK FRACTIONAL GAIN WILL BE PREFERRED TO SLOW EXCESSIVE PROFITS.

Many of the Departments are now and all will be replete on the arrival of the "Idaho" with well selected Goods BOUGHT CLOSE in most instances from the Manufacturers FOR CASH, and when marking these Goods we have been and will be careful to put the price at such a LOW FIGURE as to convince customers that it will be to their advantage to make their purchases from us.

We have on the "Idaho" 27 Cases which include our Spring Importation of

Ladies' Dolmans,

Wraps, Spring Jackets,

Misses' Cloaks, Etc.

ALSO—OUR NEW

SATIN AND MOIRE TRIMMINGS, RIBBONS & LACES

OF THE LATTER WE HAVE ABOUT 500 DOZEN RANGING IN QUALITY AND PRICE FROM THE COMMON IMITATION LACES AT FROM 15c. PER DOZEN TO THE FINEST HONITON POINT AT $10 PER YARD.

☞ Like Barnum's Show, our Goods have to be seen to be appreciated and as we are now in the very midst of the busiest Season Ladies who can make it convenient will consult their comfort and avoid the afternoon rush by calling early in the day.

☞ Believing that the lower the price the quicker will be the sale, and intending to give good value for your money buyers are invited to the
